

I would like to express my outrage at the recent FCC vote. I find it unconscionable and undemocratic that Michael Powell chose to proceed with a vote on Broadcast Ownership limitations in the face of such overwhelming public opposition. As I understand it, over 99% of the public response directed to the FCC opposed extending ownership rights.

In choosing to proceed with the vote without adequate opportunity for public debate Powell has made it clear that protecting the profits of the largest media corporations is what guides his decision making rather than representing and protecting the will of the public.
